On 1 August 1952 the People's Armed Forces Department of the Kwangsi Military District (KMD) issued a directive providing for increased military training for militia throughout the province. Authorities of the KMD believe that whereas the size of the militia has greatly increased, the level of political consciousness and military education of its members has declined. The directive contained the following points:

1. Various assignments given to the militia by People's Armed Forces Departments of the military sub-districts shall not exceed eight hours per man per day. The work day shall be divided into two parts and neither part may exceed four continuous hours.
2. The daily routine training of militia in each hsien shall be done in rotation so that each militiaman will have an opportunity to receive training. Precautions must be taken so that militiamen do not evade training.
3. The following are included in the training schedule:
 - a. Rifle marksmanship
 - b. Hand-to-hand combat and bayonet practice
 - c. Hand-grenade practice
 - d. Demolition and earthwork techniques
 - e. Rudiments of anti-spy and intelligence techniques
4. This military training program will begin throughout the province after the autumn harvest.
5. A "character reading" movement will be conducted in conjunction with the military training program. This movement will provide a good foundation for further political education and improve the educational level of the militia.
